Don't you want to know what it is first?

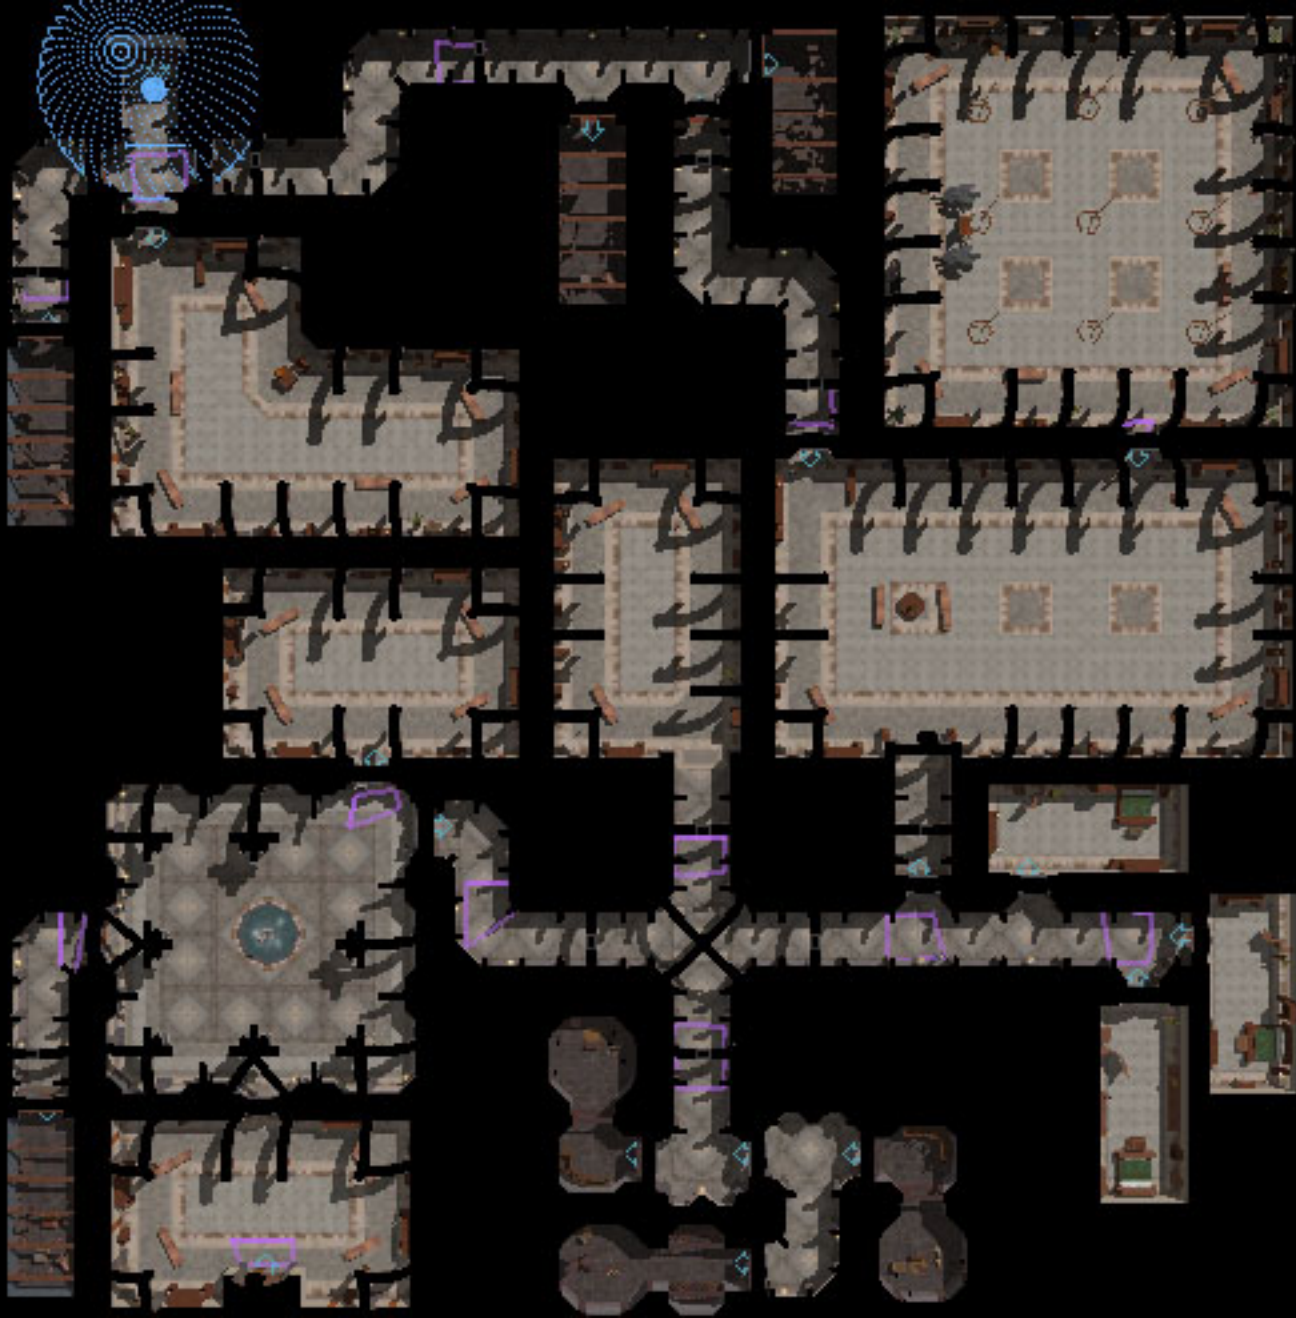

1. Uh, as long as it involves free pizza I don't really care.

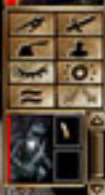

Bob: Don't you want to know what it is first?

I'll check it in the morning.

Aw man, if I go check on THIS noise, they'll expect me to check EVERY noise...

Incompetent Guard: I'll check it in the morning.

Wait. How did you get here? What do you want?

1 None of your business. Where's Mr. Incompetent at?

Incompetent Guard: I didn't hear that, I didn't see that, if I pretend it's not there I will go away.

Incompetent Guard: Wait. How did you get here? What do you want?

The story was poetic really. The evil laughter, the betrayals, the treacherous master plans, the long monologues... Darth Deathskull epitomized everything a good villain should be. I must have read that book hundreds of times, thousands even. In fact, I bet I could quote the entire thing from memory right now.

1. Please don't.
2. Run away.

Oh no! That music is even more annoying than I am.
We have to do something!

1 This is bad... I can't allow the people of the world to be tortured like this any longer! Country music must be destroyed!

Kalen Sizer: Aargh! The horrible noise... Make it stop, make it stop!

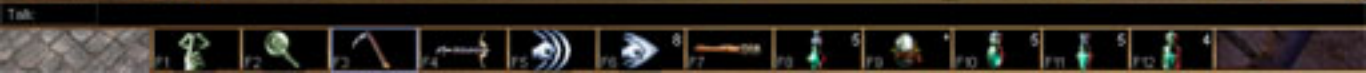

Bob: Oh no! That music is even more annoying than I am. We have to do something!
